Victoria Firms Go Over Loan Quota First Day of Drive

One hundred Victory Loan salesmen this morning brought in $183,100 from Greater Victoria for Canada's Sixth Victory Loan. Given a send-off by Edward McCormick, sales manager, the salesmen will each contact 500 individuals during the three weeks of the drive.

First Victoria firms to go over the top in reaching their loan objectives, which have been set this time as 15 per cent of total payroll, are Sidney Roofing and Paper, and F. Jeune and Bros. Ltd.

Terry's Ltd. early today were over the top with $500 of their quota.

Mass meetings took place in many plants and factories this morning, and representatives are confident quotas will be reached early in the campaign.

TODAY'S TOTALS:

Noon figures today are as follows: Greater Victoria, $183,100; lower Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands, $8,200; Cowichan-Duncan, $13,700; Courtney-Comox, $17,150; Nanaimo, $19,900; Ladysmith, $2,000, and Alberni, $13,050. This is a total of $257,100 from Vancouver Island from a quota of $90,000.

Royal Canadian Navy reports that the corvette 225, featured in the picture of the same name, put to sea with a total of $8,100 in bonds. The quota was $3,500.

From the Middle East the R.C.A.F. told of Canadians serving with an R.A.F. bomber squadron who purchased $6,000. "The Canadian army in Italy raised $4,093,350, oversubscribing its quota by 60 per cent."

Sixty Japanese shifted from their homes in B.C. to cut lumber in an Ontario camp near Port Arthur have made bond purchases averaging $100 a piece, the camp foreman, Lars Lahti, reports.

Western Air Command has an objective of $915,000, $165,000 more than the Fifth Loan in which the airmen oversubscribed 132 per cent.

Organizer for the Vancouver Island unit of Western Air Command, F. T. H. Bird announces a quota of $309,900 for the island.

LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS

Large contributions across Canada include the union of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, $50,000; London Life Insurance Co., $15,000,000; Erie Mortgage Corporation of Canada Trust Co., London, Ont., $1,750,000; Robin Hood Flour Mills Ltd., of Moose Jaw and Montreal, $1,000,000.

Temiscouata, home county of Maj. Paul Triquet, newest Canadian V.C. winner, was one of the first units over the top, while Arrowwood, Alta., totaled 50 per cent over objective the first day. In the same province, Standard and Irricana also topped their quotas.

Union Rejects Ford Proposal

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The executive board of Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) today rejected a proposal of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada for resumption of operations at the company's plants, closed since last Thursday in a dispute over grievance procedure.

The union issued a statement after the company had offered to enter into negotiations for a new collective bargaining agreement to replace the old agreement the company announced last Thursday it was terminating.

"The employees will not go back without reinstatement of the agreement which has been in effect since January, 1942," said the union statement, which added that it had accepted an invitation to present its side of the case at an open meeting of the Wartime Labor Relations Board in Ottawa tomorrow.

The invitation was announced today in Ottawa by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor, board chairman. A invitation also was extended to Wallace R. Campbell, Ford president, who said here he had replied to the invitation but would not make his answer public until he was certain it has been received by Chairman O'Connor.

From You and Me....

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

VARIOUS WAYS

EVERYONE KNOWS that the Canadian government must get the money to finish the war. But there are various ways of getting money and there are various sources. It is not enough to say that if the total necessary amount is raised, the problem is solved. Where the money comes from is also terribly important. And the place where a large part of it must come from is the small man, the ordinary Canadian, you and me.

Even if all the rich people in the country loaned or gave all their money to the government it would not solve the current problem of financing the war. This is obvious when you come to think of it. The rich together do not have enough money for the purpose. But even if the great financial institutions gave their money to the war also, still it would be necessary to tap the savings of the small man.

SIMPLE PROPOSITION

THE REASON FOR this is simple. It is the great bulk of ordinary Canadians, with small incomes who, together, use most of the nation's goods. They are, in combination, the great purchasers of goods, their total purchases far exceeding those of any single class, like the rich.

Now, the whole purpose of the Victory Loan, which appears to be purely a financial operation, is to create certain purely physical results. It is, in fact, to reduce the consumption of goods, to prevent everyone rushing to market to buy goods which are not there for the buying, and thus to prevent a mad auction sale which would raise prices overnight—the thing called inflation.

It therefore follows that, if the pressure for goods is to be kept under control, it is the small man who must relieve the main pressure, since he is the main consumer. If he refuses to reduce his consumption we could turn the rich out into the streets, penniless and in rags and still our problem would not be solved. Still the pressure for goods would raise prices and start inflation rolling. Nothing could prevent it, no order of the government, no price ceiling, no regulation, if the latent pressure of all the small people were suddenly released upon the market.

NOT GIVING UP

FOR THESE REASONS the most vital contribution to the Victory Loan is the contribution of the wage earner who is willing not to give his purchasing power away, but merely to postpone the use of it during the war. If that contribution fails the whole purpose of the loan fails and the whole financial program of the war is upset. And who would suffer most from such an upset? Why, of course, the small man who is chiefly interested in the cost of living. The rich could get by easily enough if there were a serious inflation. The poor would be pinched disastrously.

Thus the payroll contributions to the Victory Loan here in Victoria, as elsewhere, are the most vital contributions. The main question in the loan campaign is whether these contributions will be maintained at their old rate. There are some people who say that their income taxes have gone up a little this year, due to the readjustments of the last budget, which now come into effect and that, therefore, they do not need to make any contribution through the Victory Loan. This is very dangerous reasoning, indeed. The financial program of the nation requires not only all the existing taxes but the full success of the loan as well.

RUINOUS SPIRAL DANGER

THERE WILL BE people who, on account of accident, illness or other emergency, must sell some of the Victory Bonds purchased in previous loans. This was foreseen, of course, and the bonds were made saleable at any time so that no man's investment in them would be frozen, even during the war. There is nothing unpatriotic in selling bonds for such purposes as these. However, not merely patriotism but good sense requires that the man who has had to sell bonds shall try to buy new ones out of payroll savings so that the total contribution of all the ordinary people shall not fall below the amount required by the present program.

The money of the rich will be obtained all right since they have money to spare for investment without any trouble to themselves. Likewise, the money of the great financial institutions will be invested in the loan, for these institutions are looking for places to invest. We can count on that. We should be able to count on the prescribed contribution of the working people who today have larger money incomes than ever in their lives and are better able to buy bonds than ever before. And because they have a relatively high income, and the supply of available goods is relatively low in comparison with that income, the danger of inflation, of bidding up prices, of starting a ruinous spiral, is now greater than ever. The ordinary Canadian, if he is wise, will protect himself against this danger by buying more bonds than ever this year.

Victorians Pour In Gifts For H.M.C.S. Beaconhill

Appeal of R. H. Pooley's committee for furnishings for H.M.C.S. Beaconhill, Victoria's own warship, brought a rush of offerings today from Victorians and from the city's organizations.

Mrs. J. L. Ford, regent of the Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., who adopted the ship last winter, announced the organization is giving six electric toasters and six electric irons to the Beaconhill.

Navy League Chapter, too, said it would give enough musical instruments for a ship's orchestra—banjos, violins, guitars, mandolins, ukuleles, an accordion and one tiny mouth organ.

Also the Chapter is giving 250 books, magazine subscriptions to Life, Reader's Digest, Time and Life, games that include cribbage boards, dart board, Chinese checkers.

It is expected that someone will give a plane. With the City of Victoria, the Navy League Chapter will present a plaque bearing the city's coat of arms and the I.O.D.E. insignia.

CITY GIVES COCKTAIL SHAKER From the City Hall came the announcement the City of Victoria is donating a silver cocktail shaker and $100 worth of gramophone records to H.M.C.S. Beaconhill.

Gwen Scott of the Marionette Library came forth with an offer of 50 books. C. V. Milton, secretary, B.P.O.E., Victoria Lodge No. 2, said the organization would give magazine subscriptions to the New Yorker, Esquire and MacLean's.

GUIDES GETTING BUSY James Bay Company Girl Guides, anxious to make a contribution to the ship, will hold a Court of Honor Wednesday evening to decide what their gift will be.

No Settlement Yet In Yarrows Dispute

Negotiations between the management and representatives of Local No. 2, Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders Union had failed to produce a settlement of the riveters dispute at Yarrows Ltd. up to today, but were being continued, spokesmen for the company and the union said.

The dispute arises over lay-off policy, with the union alleging discrimination and calling for a Selective Service survey.

"The company wishes to revert to the original arrangement," said Garry Culhane, union president, reporting on this morning's negotiations. "That is not acceptable to the union. We're trying to reach G. R. Currie, federal labor relations officer. Our position is that no lay-off is justified and we want Selective Service to make a survey to determine the position. We also fail to see how the company can afford to lay-off its highest producers when the biggest jobs are in the offing."

Norman A. Yarrow, company president, said negotiations were still in progress. He stated there was no question of reversion to an original agreement. The firm merely wished to carry on as it was.

Sunday the Victoria local of the boilermakers union drafted points to be presented to Selective Service and the Regional War Labor board. It called specifically for a survey to see if further lay-offs were justified, and that if they were, such layoffs should be conducted under regulations laid down by Arthur Macnamara, director of National Selective Service. The union further asked for selective layoffs to permit release of workers needed in other industries. The union also asked for establishment of arbitration machinery under labor code clauses.

Pravda Predicts Early Allied Blow

LONDON (CP-Reuters)—G. Victorov, well known Soviet journalist and foreign editor of Pravda, broadcasting from Moscow today, said "decisive Allied blows will come very soon."

"They will come from the east, and the Germans know what a blow from the east and from the west means," he added.

WE'RE OFF!

Order Bans Travel From British Ports

LONDON (CP)—Tightening the web about this western front invasion base, the government tonight banned travel to overseas destinations "except for business of urgent national importance which cannot be postponed."

The Home Office announced the ban, to run indefinitely, "for military reasons." Persons now holding exit permits will be allowed to use them until midnight April 27. Then the issuance of permits will stop for all not coming under the "urgent" classification and no permit will be valid unless it was issued on or after April 19.

The action followed recent suspension of travel to Elre and a clampdown on the movement of diplomats.

Russ Massing For New Drive Toward Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians, who in 10 months have lifted the siege of Leningrad, struck into Romania and smashed halfway to Berlin in their 500-mile overland march from Kursk, are massing for a new campaign, front dispatches indicated today.

As a relative calm prevailed along the long front for the second straight day Sunday, the dispatches said rear-guard services were being moved forward to new bases, required after the winter advance. The pause was expected to be short-lived.

The spring full last year continued until July 5, when the Germans launched their ill-fated Kursk offensive and subsequently were routed westward. (In London and Berlin itself the conviction was growing that the Russians would strike soon on the Polish-Romanian front, perhaps co-ordinating their offensive with Allied blows in the west and south.)

(The German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau quoted a Berlin spokesman as saying the German high command "expects a general offensive which will demand superhuman efforts by German soldiers.")

Weather was not regarded as primary cause of the lull. The mud dried up many days ago in the southern sectors. The central and northern sectors are still boggy, but some of the Red Army's strongest thrusts, including the swift crossing of the southern Bug, Dniestr, and Prut were made despite the stickiest mud of spring.

The Axis Crimean garrison, crowded behind its fortifications at Sevastopol, is offering no offensive threat to the Red Army.

Wilby Investigators Circularize Banks

George J. Hunter, assistant to Frank S. Hogan, New York district attorney, announced here today all banks in British Columbia had been circularized in an effort to locate the money Ralph M. Wilby, alias Douglas Alexander Hume, is accused of stealing.

Mr. Hunter said he was unable to state at this time the success of the investigations, but they were continuing.

Wilby is held in the city lock-up following his commitment by Judge H. H. Shandley for extradition to New York City to face 17 grand larceny charges reported to involve $275,984. He was arrested by city police at a Victoria hotel last March 12.

2 German Thrusts

NAPLES (AP)—Allied troops have repulsed two German thrusts against the Anzio beachhead, headquarters announced today as activity elsewhere along the Italian front remained limited to patrol clashes and artillery duels.

One of the unsuccessful thrusts against the beachhead was made in company strength around Carano in the central sector. The other was an infiltration attempt southwest of Carroceto, 21 miles below Rome.

West of Mount Marrone, mile high peak 15 miles northeast of Cassino held by Italian troops, Allied patrols probed and engaged the Germans at a point where little opposition had been shown previously.

Weather Forecast

Victoria and Vicinity—Moderate winds overcast for light rain during morning, becoming partly cloudy in afternoon and evening with occasional light showers Tuesday.

Sunday's Temperatures: Min. 44; Max. 51. Victoria has over 600 hours more sunshine a year than other coast cities; Less than half the rainfall.

Pre-Invasion Blitz Reaches New High Mark

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON (AP)—In a 480-way blow, a U.S. sky force of 2,000 heavy bombers and fighters from Britain smashed German plane plants today while an armada of about 1,000 more struck from Italy at Bucharest and Ploesti, Romania.

In perhaps the heaviest co-ordinated attack of the war, Britain-based heavy bombers struck plane plants and other factories at Friedrichshafen and airdromes near Munich as a formation of perhaps 300 heavy bombers and as many protecting planes roared out of Italy and attacked Balkan objectives.

Airmen said they had "considerable success" in their attack on the main rail yards at Bucharest in good weather. The attack on rail yards at the oil centre of Ploesti, highly important to Hitler's war machine, was made by big formations of heavy bombers.

Other heavyweights bombed the Belgrade-Ikarus aircraft factory in Yugoslavia. Early reports said a number of enemy interceptors were destroyed by the Italy-based bombers and their escorts.

The assault on German objectives was carried out in good weather which, while aiding the bombardiers to lay their explosives on the targets, gave the Germans a better chance to challenge the latest blows in the history-making campaign to drive the German air force from the sky.

The German radio claimed the U.S. bombers and fighters were engaged by Nazi defenders even before they crossed the border and fierce battles were fought over southern Germany. Early official American reports did not mention today's losses in the greatest aerial offensive of all time.

Swiss Say Many U.S. Bombers Land

(A Swiss communique from Berne, however, said eight U.S. bombers landed today at Dubendorf, Switzerland, another at Geneva, one at Altenheim near the German frontier and that several crashed. A later report from Dubendorf said 13 bombers had landed there.)

Light and medium bombers and fighters joined in the shuttle parade toward northern France, indicating Nazi cross-Channel installations, already pounded by 8,000 tons of bombs in the current offensive, were being hit for the 10th consecutive day following R.A.F. and U.S. night smashes at targets in Belgium and western Germany.

Planes of various types shuttled across the Channel in the morning and afternoon, attacking anti-invasion installations.

An Air Ministry communique said R.A.F. heavy bombers had pounded an important signal equipment depot at Vilvorde, six miles east of Brussels, Sunday night while speedy plywood Mosquitoes lashed at the German industrial centre of Mannheim. R.A.F. planes laid mines in enemy waters.

Crowds Will Greet Jack Benny's Party

Jack Benny and his world-famous troupe of radio actors, singers and comedians will be welcomed to Victoria tomorrow afternoon at 3.35 when they step from the Vancouver steamer.

Arrangements are being made to handle an enormous crowd of spectators at the C.P.R. docks. Jack and his company will appear Wednesday at noon at MacDonald Park in the Victory Loan campaign.

Jack is accompanied by his wife, Mary Livingstone, Rochester, Phil Harris, Dennis Day and Don Wilson.

In Vancouver Sunday afternoon more than 9,000 persons applauded and cheered the Benny troupe at the Forum.

Today 6,000 men and women created a gigantic traffic jam in downtown Vancouver as they stood in a drizzling rain to see the Benny troupe stage a show in connection with opening of the loan.

Cardinal O'Connell, Dean of Church, Dies

DIES

BOSTON (AP)—William Cardinal O'Connell, 84, who rose from a humble beginning as son of a New England mill worker to become a Prince of the Church and dean of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, died Saturday from bronchial pneumonia.

A cablegram expressing the concern of Pope Pius XII had been received from the Vatican Friday.

Born at Lowell, Mass., in 1859, the young O'Connell attended public schools there, subsequently studying at St. Charles College near Baltimore and Boston College, where at 21 he graduated with highest honors. He studied for the priesthood at the American College of Rome and was ordained in June, 1884. He was named a domestic prelate in 1897. He was appointed Bishop of Portland, Maine, in 1901. Five years later he went to Boston as bishop coadjutor of that diocese. He became archbishop in 1907 and was created a cardinal in 1911.

Interested in literature and music, he was the composer of a number of sacred songs and hymns, among the best known being "Hark the Sound of Angels' Voices" and "The Hymn of the Holy Name." His work, "The Cross and the Flag," was featured in a pageant presented by the Boston Opera House in 1915. He was widely known for his opposition to "mercy killings" and compulsory prohibition.

Nanaimo Accident

NANAIMO (CP)—An automobile containing three girls and three Camp Nanaimo soldiers turned over four times after it had been in collision with another machine at an intersection here Sunday night. Only passenger injured was Miss Jon Spencer, who suffered minor leg injuries. The automobile containing the soldiers was driven by Evelyn Carlson of Port Alberni.

Merriman Round-up ...

FLORENCE C. BARR writes that the case reported Saturday of the boys setting fire to a little dog can hardly be dismissed as a childish prank. "The horrible cruelty involved indicates a deplorable lack of humane education, both at home and in the schools," says Mrs. Barr. "How many such revolting cases are never brought to light, and what action, if any, is being taken by the S.P.C.A.? In many Canadian cities, where animal welfare is efficiently organized, junior humane societies have been established in the schools. These societies teach the children the oft forgotten facts that animals have rights—and feelings. What use to talk of a better postwar world when the coming generation is allowed to grow up vicious and cruel?"

A S. J. McLELLAN, retired city official crosses Johnson St. Bridge to his Victoria West home he often reflects how it used to be in his boyhood days. There was no bridge then. Indian canoes lined the bank and a hand-propelled ferry, charging five cents each way, crossed the arm. ... Old friends will regret to hear of the death at Maidenhead, Eng., of the widely-travelled reporter Charlie D. Smith at the age of 77. White-haired, rosy-faced philosopher, Charlie worked on the Times and most of the other papers in B.C. while in this part of the world and on papers in many other parts. He went to Maidenhead when he was bombed out of his home in London. ... Mrs. J. Gilman, Duncan, has received a letter from her son, L. Bdr. Fred Gilman, that reached her one day after it was mailed in England. Allowing for nine hours difference in time it must have made perfect connections.

GIRL TICKET SELLERS for B.C. Electric Railway are doing well on the job according to their boss Ernest Harrison, accountant. Trouble is to keep them, he says. First girl who started in July, 1943, has left and another who came shortly afterwards has left also. At present there is one girl on and another due to start shortly. ... If you find the butter ration slim you might try this idea from Mrs. Barclay Hutton of Cobble Hill: Cream 4 oz. butter as for a cake, add the yolk of 1 egg (unbeaten) and cream it into the butter. Warm to blood heat one-third cup of cream (or top of milk) and add slowly 1 tablespoonful at a time to the above, mixing well until all is smoothly blended. Set away to harden. This is like delicious fresh butter and makes half a pound with the added vitamins of the egg and cream. ...

DEAN CECIL SWANSON said the weather might have something to do with B.C.'s high divorce rate, mild weather softening the moral fibres, but the Winnipeg Tribune believes it is the fog, divorces being sought when "the sun breaks through the heavens at last and Darby, after long years, gets a look at Joan and sees what he really married." ... Goldilocks and Prince Charming are out as far as bedtime stories for English children are concerned. The hero has to be a man in air force blue, not in shining armor, who rides a spitfire instead of a horse and the villain is the "Ruddy 'Un." And as the story is told to youngsters in underground shelters it concludes, "And the 'Ruddy 'Un,' 'e cops a packet and George flew home to 'is sweetie in the Land Army and they lived 'appily ever after'." ... London newspapers have revived peacetime policy, abandoned at beginning of war, of printing inconsequential news items that may be interesting or amusing. Stories of bathing beauties or the largest hollyhock are appearing on front pages.

Airborne Troops Take Spectacular Pre-Invasion Test

By LOUIS V. HUNTER

A BRITISH GLIDER BASE (CP)—Britain's crack airborne formations, on which the success of at least certain stages of the second front operation may depend, are ready for the impending assault on Europe, trained to razor-edge keenness and unbelievably efficient.

In the greatest exercise of its kind yet held in this island arsenal-fortress, thousands of these men and tons of supplies were dropped from troop-carrying aircraft or landed in blunderbuss gliders. At one stage in the demonstration, there seemed to be an endless stream of aircraft filling the sky.

The operation lasted 24 hours. It began at dusk one night when transports dropped paratroops assigned to carry out sabotage. In the morning hundreds of twin-engine Dakota transports from various British and U.S. groups dropped troops near the targets in the area covered by the exercise.

Still more hundreds of two-engine tugs, Albemarle and Dakotas, landed gliders with assorted cargoes of troops and equipment, including the ubiquitous jeep. Dropping ammunition and supplies by night concluded the operation.

WRITERS SEE DISPLAY

One phase of the operation was witnessed by a group of correspondents.

The most spectacular part of the demonstration was the manner in which the gliders landed. Scores of the thick-winged craft cast off from the tugs over the field and slipped quietly down in twos and threes.

They came down at a sharp angle and spectators held their breath as it appeared one after another would bury its nose into the ground. But each time the glider levelled out while a few feet above the ground, righted itself gently and rolled smartly to a stop a few yards farther on.

YOUR MOVE

OUR Move, and YOUR Move right now is to take stock of what we are doing to speed Victory and hasten Peace. And one thing we ALL can do is to invest in the VI VICTORY LOAN to the utmost. It's the greatest thing you can do for your country—the best thing you can do for your own future. When it comes to "Moving" Victoria people say, "Let Dowell's Do It," but this is ONE move in which we must all take a leading part for ourselves.

and this time you CAN'T let DOWELL'S do it!

To TERRY'S EMPLOYEES

On behalf of the management of Terry's, I wish to congratulate you on your magnificent achievement in subscribing not only your FULL QUOTA but reaching the TOTAL OF 145%. It is the more praiseworthy, in so much as you also WON A 3-STAR BANNER IN THE 5TH WAR LOAN DRIVE.

To have accomplished all this on the FIRST DAY OF THE 6TH WAR LOAN DRIVE, you have set a wonderful example to others and given the Victoria War Loan Committee a first-class boost. All this you have done, voluntarily, by yourselves, without pressure of any kind from the management. Such an expression of loyalty and devotion to Canada's cause is an inspiration to all and undoubtedly is your tribute to Canada's fighting women and men.

Thank you!

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP)—The navy tells in a press release how the frigate

Saint John recently spent nearly 17 days at sea seeking, finding and bringing back to port a derelict—the stern half of a Liberty ship which had been shattered in one of the North Atlantic's worst gales.

The freighter had split in two and the crew had been rescued by other convoy ships and naval escort vessels. The stern portion, containing machinery and tons of cargo, remained afloat and drifting.

Weather conditions were so bad the frigate and an accompanying tug lost contact for several hours.

On the ninth day an R.C.A.F.
patrol plane reported the wreck.
The weather had moderated, the tug's crew was able to get two lines in place without trouble, and the 400-mile haul back to port to mark the occasion.

The bearded "Tsar," who

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The American landing in Netherlands New Guinea stole a fair amount of the invasion limelight during the week-end, though there was enough Allied glory in both European and Pacific theatres to go around.

The landing of U.S. troops at Hollandia and Aitape on the north coast of New Guinea, after a fierce naval and aerial bombard-made him the most colorful of the demonstrations, refused to make any defence when he appeared in court and ignored questions addressed to him under his proper name.

ment, advances Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied southwest Pacific commander, a big step nearer his heart's desire — recapture of the Philippines. Once Hollandia's airfields are in Allied hands, they will provide bases from which heavy bombers can reach the Philippines.

MORE JAPS CUT OFF

The landings also isolated another 60,000 Japanese who face annihilation. This makes a total of 140,000 enemy troops who are neutralized in the area from New Guinea to the Solomons—all that are left of the 250,000 originally intended for invasion of Australia.
This first recapture of Dutch territory lends emphasis to the statement by Admiral Ernest J.

King, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, that the present situation is as dark and threatening to Japan as it is full of promise for the Allies.

In Europe, German military experts profess to believe the invasion of France can come at any time now—and so do a lot of other folk.

One of the most encouraging developments is the Allied announcement in London predicting early destruction of the Nazi air force. The attack on the Nazi aircraft industry, now reaching a climax, is termed a success, though "not yet a complete one."
For three months the German fighter force has lost more planes than its plants could manufacture.

That's great news, because one of the major pre-invasion essentials has been to render the Luftwaffe sufficiently impotent so the Allies will have control of the air.

This doesn't mean the Hitlerites aren't holding a considerable fleet in reserve for defence on D-day. They dare not face the opening of the invasion without it, and may be expected to fling everything they have into the air
when the big show starts.

HARDEST FIGHTS

Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, believes the Russians are preparing a new offensive which will synchronize with the invasion of western Europe, and takes the grim view that the Reich faces the hardest and bloodiest battles of all time this summer.

The Beobachter hints that Hitler, while expecting to give up more territory, still hopes to achieve a stalemate by hanging on to his inner "fortress."

Berlin says the Russians are massing forces for a great offensive in southeastern Poland, to coincide with the invasion in the west. There can be little doubt the Muscovites do project a Polish drive.

Liberty Ship Sinks In Alaska Waters; 55 Believed Lost

SEATTLE (AP)—Only the faintest ray of hope remained today for at least 55 men missing and presumed lost after the unexplained sinking of the munitions-carrying Liberty ship John Straub in Alaskan waters last week.

The Straub, making its third voyage since launching, broke in two at 5:30 a.m. last Wednesday.
E. M. Murphy, superintendent of the Alaska Steamship Company, announced Sunday.

The forward portion sank immediately. The after section remained afloat for 14 hours, long enough for a coast guard cutter to reach the scene and for coast guardsmen to board the derelict and determine there was no one aboard.

Earlier a small army vessel had reached the scene, 21 miles off Sanak Island, which is just south of the western tip of the Alaska Peninsula. The army vessel picked up 15 survivors and took them to the army hospital at Cold Bay, Alaska.

Although the report of the wreck furnished the Alaska
Steamship Company by the War Shipping Administration said 15 had survived of 80 aboard, company lists totaled only 70, including 42 merchant seamen, 27
navy men and an army cargo security officer. Forty of the merchant seamen, 14 navy men and the security officer are presumed lost.

ABOARD RUSSIAN SHIP?

All the lifeboats and rafts but one have been accounted for, Murphy said. The lone hope that survivors may have been saved is from the fact that a Russian vessel traveling with silenced radio was known to have been in the vicinity about the time of the wreck and may have taken aboard members of the missing lifeboat.

Two explosions were mentioned in connection with reports of the sinking, but Murphy added, the coast guardsmen who boarded the wreck found no traces of fire when they examined the after section.

Master of the Straub was Capt.
A. W. Westerholm of Seattle, a veteran of 26 years with the Alaska Steamship Company, who although making his first trip aboard the Straub, had sailed previously on a number of Liberty ships.

Other licensed officers missing are Chief Mate Lester A. Fredericks, second Mate Carl O. Angvik, Chief Engineer Axel W.
Holmquist, first assistant engineer Harold W. Teeter, second assistant John F. Rau, all of Seattle, and third assistant William J. Secunda of Butler, Pa.
Names of the navy men missing and the security officer were not announced.

cally produced short-wave ultra-

McNaughton Expects Desperate Surprise Action By Germans

TORONTO (AP)—Lt. Gen. A.
G. L. McNaughton, former commander of the Canadian Army overseas, said in an address to more than 2,000 ex-servicemen Sunday there is "every reason" to expect that Germany in this war will try a surprise similar to use of gas at Ypres in the First Great War when the battle
"might have gone decisively against it."

Gen. McNaughton, 57, making his first major public appearance and his first official visit to Toronto since he relinquished the overseas army command last December, spoke in the Metropolitan United Church at the opening service of the 13th biennial convention of the Canadian Legion's Ontario provincial command.

He was applauded frequently by his audience as he read from a prepared manuscript. He wore a plain, brown business suit.

Canadians in England and the Mediterranean theatre constitute a "formidable force," he said.
Canada could look forward with every hope for their success. The Canadian army was "well organized, well trained and well equipped and ready to face the grim tasks which lie ahead in the invasion of Europe."

He urged there be no let-up in the "vital efforts" to maintain the flow of equipment and supplies "until victory and the peace are safely confirmed." The Legion also had another task, "to think out and plan the future of the Canadian soldiers."

more than 30 European bound-studied, it was learned today, so that when diplomats sit down

THE VI VICTORY LOAN OPENS TODAY!

Gearred for VICTORY
OAK BAY
VICTORIA
SAANICH
INNER WARDS
ESQUIMALT

It is surey most significant that with the opening of Canada's VI VICTORY LOAN we will, for the first time, have the opportunity of showing what all the people of Greater Victoria can do by a single united effort to put this community in its rightful position among all Canadian cities

In former Loans Victoria City, and the separate municipalities of Oak Bay, Esquimalt, and the inner wards of Saanich have each been asked to subscribe for their individual quota of Victory Bonds—but for the VI Loan a single combined quota of $5,700,000 has been set for the whole combined area of Greater Victoria.

One hundred carefully-trained and fully-informed Victory Loan advisers will start their canvass of Greater Victoria Homes and Business Establishments today and in the Industrial Plants hundreds of workers will canvass their fellow-workers. Every home, every office, every workshop, every store will be urged again to participate to the utmost in Canada's prime investment. No single individual will be overlooked—and indeed those in business or employed down-town will be called upon twice.

Weeks have been spent on the most careful plans to insure Greater Victoria's complete fulfillment of her investment quota, but in the final analysis the result rests with each one of us individually. Once again we are called upon only to INVEST our money—surely a minimum requirement to prove that we are in earnest in all we say about the desire to back to the utmost our own men who have been called upon to invest their ALL and who are so gallantly doing just that.

ON THE EASTERN FRONT

MILITARY EXPERTS IN BERLIN ARE speculating on the weight and time of the next Russian offensive—particularly its threat to Stanislaw and Lwow. While the Wehrmacht still is in control of most of the Baltic states and a strip of Soviet territory based on very strong "hedhog" defences extending from Lake Peipus to the vicinity of the Pripiet Marshes, behind this area lies the "fortress" of Brest-Litovsk—the Nazi key point in Poland.

South of the Pripiet Marshes, however, the line bends sharply into Poland, and it is in this sector that Field Marshal-Erich von Manstein has conducted his violent counterattacks in the last week or so. By sheer weight of armor and manpower he succeeded in relieving some of the German forces trapped in the Skala area one hundred miles south of Tarnopol. But once his hold on Stanislaw is broken the danger confronting Lwow is easily understood. No doubt the Fuehrer already has issued his familiar order to hold this point to the last man. It is the pivot of the whole Russian front. If and when it falls into Soviet hands—and Marshal Stalin obviously intends that it shall—all the operations in the north and south of it may be expected to change with startling rapidity. For even as we write the enemy is circulating accounts of vast Russian armies regrouping for what may be the real Battle of Poland.

Russian communiques since the middle of last week have been notable for their brevity—"no major developments"—and one explanation of this unusual condition is not far to seek. The rapid advance of the Red Army toward Poland and Romania in the last few months, of course, has produced a situation similar to that which followed the abortive Nazi attempt to straighten out the Kursk salient last July. The late General Vatutin's forces gathered such momentum after the capture of Kiev that they had overrun Korosten and Zhitomir before they had sufficient time to consolidate their communications and re-establish their enormous supply system. So von Manstein threw in all the weight of men and armor he could command; the Russians gave considerable ground between the Ukrainian capital and on the line running north and south but well west of the Dnepr. The enemy's losses in men and material in a little more than two weeks were so serious that by the time Vatutin had accumulated his reserves and supplies that part of the Wehrmacht confronting him had grown exhausted.

To all intents and purposes, then, the apparent lull—and it is only apparent—on this vital part of the Russian front is a case of recent history repeating itself. The enemy has been forced to follow the tactics he employed in his vain attempt to recapture Kiev last year. How many of his reserves and how much armor the Nazi commander can afford to lose in his efforts to hold up the inexorable Russian plan is purely conjectural. Once the Soviet steamroller moves westward again, however, the German people will begin to realize that the campaign soon will be within measurable distance of their own soil.

TOWARDS WINNING THE PEACE

THE MEETING OF THE INTERNATIONAL Labor Organization now under way at Philadelphia with representatives from 41 countries, including some 50 officials from Canada, is a conference of the first importance for all who believe that a better world, internationally and domestically, is feasible and possible.

The I.L.O. was created by the Peace Treaties of 1919 and had attained an official membership representative of 55 countries, before the Axis group withdrew in 1939. It is one international organization that did not shut up shop when war came. It moved its headquarters from Europe to Montreal. From there it has continued to carry on its work directed toward the principles on which it was founded: 1. That universal peace can be established only if it is based on social justice. 2. That the failure of any nation to adopt humane conditions of labor is an obstacle in the way of other nations who desire to improve conditions in their own countries. It is looked to with hope as an organization of the peoples, because it consists of representatives of governments, employers and employees and keeps clear of political controversies. It proclaims that peace can be established only if it is based on social justice. It recognizes that there is no short-cut to establishing happiness and a higher standard of life for all peoples.

Britain's Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, on the eve of the conference, dealt with the necessity of the nations examining their problems objectively and planning a joint approach. "Towards this," he said, "in the I.L.O. we have a tried instrument. It is an experiment that has worked. Britain looks to the I.L.O. as the main international instrument to give effect to Article 5 of the Atlantic Charter—"Improved labor standards, economic advancement and social security for all."

Included in the conference agenda are these items: 1. Recommendations to the United Nations for present and postwar society. 2. Organization of employment in the transition from war to peace. 3. Social security, principles and problems arising out of the war. Minimum standards of social policy in dependent territories. Also to be considered are preparations to assist the liberated peoples to return to the democratic way of life, bringing to them as the moment arrives, succor and advice.

The decisions of the conference on such matters will give a lead in the way of the co-ordinated and co-operative action that will be necessary in the labor and industrial sphere to ensure that after the war has been won, the peace shall be really won. In the words of Britain's Minister of Labor, Rt. Hon. Ernest Bevin, "we are winning the people's war and we must make sure of winning the people's peace." This is the objective of the I.L.O.

OUR ROTARIAN VISITORS

VICTORIANS HAVE A WARM SPOT IN their hearts for visiting members of service clubs—as, indeed, for all who breathe the spirit of good fellowship—and today they are extending heartiest greetings to some 500 out-of-town delegates to the 30th Annual Conference of District 101, Rotary International. Represented at the session now in progress are citizens of the States of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska, as well as from several communities of British Columbia. May their deliberations be fruitful and their stay pleasant.

Although Rotary is the oldest of the group which constitutes the international service club movement, its virility and growth in recent times bear witness to the influence it continues to wield among the citizens of the world—even in these moments of its greatest trial. And those of us who from time to time are privileged to enjoy the hospitality of the local club—likewise to contrast its manifold activities with its operations of more than a quarter of a century ago—can testify to the superlative contribution it is constantly making to local progress through the practical application of its own philosophy: "He profits most who serves best." Or, in these days of abbreviation, "Service before self."

The war, of course, has halted Rotary's activities in the vast international scene. But when peace dawns again and the peoples of the world are free to go about their lawful occupations, without fear of what the morrow may bring, such movements as Rotary International will find new outlets for practical reconstruction work—morally, physically and materially. That it will measure up to its task and challenge is a foregone conclusion.

WATCHING THE HOUR GLASS

IN A JOINT BRITISH-AMERICAN STATEMENT the world is informed that the rate of destruction of German aircraft factories will not permit the enemy to turn out as many planes as he is losing. Only one interpretation can be placed on this confident announcement: In the coming "battle to the finish" the Luftwaffe bids fair to find itself at a serious discount.

The Fuehrer promised the German people to quadruple the production of fighter planes by this month. But his disillusioned dupes should know how much faith to put in his promises by this time—even if they have not been permitted to learn the whole truth about the devastation caused far and wide by Allied bombings. And it is not likely they will take much notice of that Nazi war correspondent who says today that "Germany is calm and prepared." For our part, if an irate bull were rushing us into the corner of a small field, from which there was no way of escape, we should feel somewhat perturbed.

LIFE INSURANCE

DURING 1943, THE NET AMOUNT OF life insurance effected in Canada was $887,500,000, an increase of 8.4 per cent over 1942. According to the Superintendent of Insurance in Ottawa, the total volume of life policies in force in Canada on Dec. 31, 1943, amounted to $8,500,000,000, also an increase of 8.4 per cent over 1942.

Of the total volume of insurance sold during 1943, $684,500,000 represented ordinary insurance, $142,600,000 industrial policies and $60,400,000 group insurance. Of the total amount of life insurance in force at the end of 1943, $6,300,000,000 represented ordinary insurance, $1,200,000,000 represented industrial policies and $982,000,000 represented group insurance.

Of the total amount of insurance outstanding, Canadian companies carried $5,600,000,000 and British and United States companies, $2,900,000,000. Total premiums received during 1943 amounted to $228,700,000 while annuity considerations amounted to $17,200,000. In 1942, these figures were $215,800,000 and $14,900,000, respectively.

The increase in purchases of life insurance during 1943 was a wholesome development since it reduced the amount of money available to individuals for spending purposes. As is well known, insurance companies invest most of their current income in government obligations. The increase in the volume of life insurance outstanding indicates that Canadians have confidence in the future purchasing power of their currency and are willing to forego present expenditures for future benefits—a healthy sign.

It is estimated that because of wartime conditions women will vote from 52 to 65 per cent of the total vote in the United States presidential elections next November. Census figures show that American women are now 51 per cent of the voting population and getting more numerous every year. The proportion in Canada must be about the same. And to recall that it is only a quarter of a century ago that women gained the right to vote.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

TRIED A LITTLE polling along the Gallup lines, working from "Pusser Corner, Yates and Douglas. Stopped a tall, smart soldier, R. H. Hillgartner, from Binbrook, Ont. "Would you let the Japanese back into B.C.?" I asked. "They shouldn't all be allowed to return to coastal areas," he said. "Do you think women should drop out of men's jobs after the war?" "Qualified women of suitable age ought to be allowed to keep the jobs as long as they don't freeze out returned men," he said. "Do you think Victoria is all it's cracked up to be?" I asked. He didn't. "The natural setting and scenery surpasses civic improvements which appear to have been allowed to lapse," he said. But he evidently has a leaning towards Victoria because when I asked him if he preferred it to his home town he said, "If I could have Victoria's climate in Binbrook, I would prefer Binbrook."

Stopped a navy petty officer next. "What do you think about Japs coming back to B.C. after the war?" I asked. "I think you look to me like one of those guys who talk too much," he said, and kept going.

SOLDIER NEXT, Jim Dickie of Vancouver, was more friendly. He didn't think all the Japs should be allowed back in B.C., but thought it a matter best left over until peace settlements. He didn't think women should be forced out of men's jobs but should be offered higher wages in their former jobs to induce them to return to them. He doesn't think Victoria is all it's cracked up to be, nevertheless he's considering living here after the war. "First hitch," he said, "difficulty of making a living here."

Tall, smart young woman of the C.W.A.C. courteously stopped to answer the questions. Only the Japanese really loyal to Canada should be allowed to return to B.C., she said. "Yes, definitely. Women should drop out of men's jobs after the war and make openings for returning servicemen," she said. She thinks Victoria is a very pretty city and the people very kind. "But no other city comes up to one's own city," she said with a smile. Her name, Edith M. Leakey; hometown, Duncan.

T. HAROLD DEMPSEY, soldier, Orillia, Ontario, thought the Japs would be absorbed throughout the Dominion, women should drop out of industry after the war. Victoria measures right up to his expectations. "But," he said, "Ontario is centrally located and has not lost its place in my mind despite the climate."

J. H. Gray, another soldier, said he thought those Japs who had fought with the allied forces should be allowed back in B.C. Women, obviously unsuited, should drop out of men's jobs, but qualified women workers should be allowed to keep them. "I think Victoria is the most beautiful city in the world and I have traveled extensively," he said in answer to the last question. Stopped a tall, broad C.S.M. next. "Definitely no," he said about allowing the Japanese back after the war, and equally definitely "yes" he said when asked whether women should drop out of men's jobs after the war. Asked if he found Victoria right up to the Publicity Bureau standard, he told me there was no place in the world to beat it and praised it in a way that almost made the bureau's efforts sound feeble. I asked him his name. It was Hank Campbell. He was born here.—F. J. MERRIMAN.

FOREST INDUSTRY YEAR BOOK

Greatest forest region in the world, without exception, is the Pacific slope of North America, of which British Columbia occupies the north central portion. British Columbia Lumber Trade Directory and Year Book, 1944 edition, points out that within the province's forests are the timber giants of the earth, largest in size, yielding the best and clearest timber obtainable and in the largest dimensions.

"Biggest and finest timber grows in the coast forests," continues the article, "from which, because of their accessibility, all of the material for water export is obtained. Pacific forests are composed almost entirely of softwood (that is, coniferous or evergreen) species, the few hardwoods rarely occurring in commercial quantities. This fact is an added advantage because softwood lumber, on account of its lightness, strength and ease of working, is the most useful for general purposes, and makes up over three-quarters of the world's wood consumption today."

British Columbia Lumber Trade Directory outlines sawmills, shingle mills and logging, manufacturers of special products, wholesalers, exporters, cruisers, timber agents, towing companies, tugboats, customs tariffs, timber laws of the province. It also contains the Forestry Branch official directory, a personal directory, geographical section and buyers' guide.—K.M.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—Has Australia had any money-raising campaigns similar to our Victory Loan drives?

A—Yes, the last was a Victory Loan drive for $750,000,000; slogan: "Fight and Feed."

Q—Which withstand air bombings better, cats or dogs?

A—Britain's National Canine Defence League declares that London's cats behave better than dogs during blitzes.

Q—What European nation is at peace at home and at war in its island possessions?

A—Portugal; she allows the Allies to occupy the Azores and she exports wolfram to Germany.

Q—Name the largest river in the British Isles.

A—The River Shannon in Eire, 250 miles long.

No unknown land remains, but you can still get the thrill of discovery by finding your lost laundry.

Would You Press That Button?

From London Sunday Chronicle
Professor A. M. Low, the famous inventor, asked Sunday Chronicle readers this provocative question:

"If a new weapon were invented which could kill every man, woman and child in Germany tomorrow by pressing a button in this country, would you press the button?"

The response was remarkable. Hundreds of readers replied. So far, a general analysis of these replies reveals a 35 per cent definite "No"; roughly a 30 per cent definite "Yes"; the remaining 35 per cent, a qualified "Yes" or "No."

Among those who replied was Harry Secombe of Manchester, a military policeman on the German-Belgian border, who was captured when the Germans invaded the Low Countries, and who wrote:

"Where is that button? I'd push it. After escaping, I listened to the Nazis' songs of hate, to their song about invading England, and saw the evil glow come into their faces.

"If that landing had materialized, I wonder whether there would still be as many soft-hearted sentimentalists to say the Germans are not all bad."

But from Coventry, the first English city to suffer from a German annihilation raid, Frank E. Davenport wrote:

"The answer to whether the button should be pressed is, of course, 'No.' My city has been hard hit by air raids, but time, even to a tortured mind, is a great comfort. I believe, even now, that there is a strong element of good in Germany. This good element should prove victorious in time. Its growth should be encouraged."

Other letters, more or less representative, follow:

E. S. Steffens, Tooting, S.W. 17
"My answer is a definite yes."

"In a flash I should end two terrors of civilization—war and the war-mongering German race. To wipe out every German would rid the world of a 'disease' that has for years killed off the best of its manhood."

"Germany could then be repopulated with nations of other overcrowded European countries, and world peace would be assured."

M. Brennan, Southampton—"I certainly would not press the button to kill every man, woman and child in Germany."

"To say that I were willing to do so would be the very best of propaganda on behalf of Germany, and why concern Goebbels' bleatings?"

"Incidentally, what a world war would arise amongst the nations as to who would occupy, and

Constable Kills Man in Winnipeg During Gun Fight

WINNIPEG (CP) — Sgt. Maj. Edward Sewell of Winnipeg was recovering in military hospital today from a shoulder wound and an alleged long-time burglar, Martin Silver, 43, of Montreal, is dead following a week-end attempted robbery and gun battle with a police posse in a back alley in downtown Winnipeg.

Sgt. Maj. Sewell, former caretaker of the Albany Block on Edmonton Street, where the shooting started late Saturday, was injured while assisting detectives, who were endeavoring to apprehend Silver. Silver, wanted in Toronto on an attempted murder charge, had entered a suite in the block.

When Detective James V. Ayres entered a window of the suite, police said Silver shot at him and then dashed through a door, where he encountered Sgt. Maj. Sewell and shot him in the right shoulder during a scuffle. A few minutes later Silver was shot and killed instantly during a gunfight with Constable Alex Jamieson in a back alley two blocks away. An inquest will be held Wednesday night.

Police disclosed that Silver fired more than six shots from a sawed-off .38-calibre gun, narrowly missing several policemen and two elderly crippled men who were outside a nursing home. Other spectators also escaped injury.

WOMAN QUESTIONED
A companion of the dead man was being held by police for questioning. Her name was not disclosed immediately.

Silver, known under the alias of Milton Galahart, Max Zukerman, Mack Sullivan, Morris Silver, Max Sullivan and Maxwell Silver, had lived in Montreal, Quebec City and Toronto in the last two years.

Toronto police said he was the man wanted for wounding John Garbutt, caretaker of an apartment block in Forest Hill, last July 7. There was a bullet scar on Silver's cheek, believed to have resulted from a gun battle with a Forest Hill policeman. Police expressed the belief that when a shot from Jamieson's service revolver entered Silver's left side and passed through the region of his heart, a suite-crime wave had come to an end. Silver was wanted for 40 suite break-ins, they said.

Loot valued at more than $7,000, including cash, fur coats, jewelry, traveling bags, clothing, revolvers, radios and other articles were recovered from Silver's Winnipeg home.

Sgt. Maj. Sewell of the Winnipeg Light Infantry (reserve) battalion was caretaker of the Albany block until July, 1940, when he enlisted. Since then, Mrs. Sewell has been in charge. First police reports had identified Sewell as the caretaker.

Victoria Chemists Finish C.D. Course

Two Victoria chemists, E. Savannah, Victoria College instructor, and G. C. B. Cave, chief analyst, B.C. Department of Mines, have completed a four-day civil defence course on identification of war gases. The course, directed by Dr. C. S. Beals of Victoria, provincial gas officer, was held at University of B.C., under the auspices of the Dominion and provincial civil defence organizations.

A feature of the final day of laboratory exercises was the submission to the class by Dr. D. B. W. Robinson, of the Chemical Warfare Branch, Department of National Defence, of a specimen of contaminated earth containing a mixture of unknown gases. The earth was sent through rapid field tests to final analysis in the laboratory.

OTTAWA (CP) — Sixty-two persons were given orders and decorations for distinguished service to Canada by the Governor-General Saturday. Among those who mounted the dais were 31 wives, mothers and sisters of servicemen who had not lived long enough to receive their decorations personally. Others decorated were high-ranking officials of the three services and the government.

Dawson Pioneer Dies
VANCOUVER (CP) — Henry C. Macauley, 74, Vancouver real estate agent and first Mayor of Dawson City, died in a hospital here Sunday. He pioneered in the wholesale food business in the Yukon in 1898.

Surviving him are four sons, Cameron and James of San Francisco, Alexander in the R.C.A.F., and Ewing of Edmonton; and three daughters including Miss Margaret Macauley of Washington, D.C.

Parents' Duty to Urge Soldiers To Go Active, Says Gen. Pearkes

Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., D.S.O., G.O.C.-in-Chief, Pacific Command, over the week-end appealed to every citizen to influence public opinion so there could be no doubt in the mind of every soldier serving today that he has got to give 100 per cent service to win the war.

Addressing No. 4 Company, Pacific Coast Militia Rangers, Brentwood Bay, Gen. Pearkes accused some parents of suggesting to their sons that they had done their duty in guarding the B.C. Coast. He urged every home defence soldier to volunteer heart and soul to support his comrades now prepared to launch the invasion of Europe.

"There are many young soldiers serving in British Columbia," he said, "who are quite satisfied to say they have done their duty in protecting the British Columbia coast. These men have done a good job."

But, expressing confidence the Allies could establish a beachhead on the continent of Europe, the general warned it was a question whether the United Nations would have the reserves to exploit the foothold.

The flower of the German army had not yet been met, he said, and the German army perhaps was numerically superior to that of the English-speaking countries although the Nazis did not have the equipment of the Allies.

STALEMATE POSSIBLE

He said it was a question whether the war could be won this year or would be stalemated for another six years. Unless soldiers were willing to serve anywhere, he said, they were in some small measure helping to prolong the war.

"No man is worthy to wear the khaki uniform unless he is willing to wear it anywhere," the general said, adding that victory could be gained this year if the effort were made.

While Canadian soldiers were on the verge of touching off the invasion of the citadel of Europe, Gen. Pearkes urged parents not to ask for help of their fighting sons on farms this year, but to get along as well as possible with women, young men and old men.

Besides urging soldiers to go active, Gen. Pearkes said it was the duty of citizens at home, particularly in the rural areas, to arrange to give some pre-call-up training to boys at school. By giving the boys some insight into their duties they will be helped to perform them successfully when called up, he said.

DUTIES INCREASED

Gen. Pearkes said the duties of the Rangers had been increased because the government was removing some of the men previously earmarked to protect British Columbia.

Canada, he said, had decided to go all out to win the war in Europe this year. That would require every able-bodied soldier, sailor and airman.

Therefore unless the Rangers were willing to bear the extra burden to defend the coast, the Dominion government will not be able to withdraw active forces from B.C. to fight in Europe, he said.

"I've a feeling of admiration for the work the Rangers have done," he said, noting that the spirit of the Rangers on the B.C. coast was truly the spirit of the original Rangers who were founded to make war against the North American Indians in eastern Canada.

He said Rangers here had volunteered the same way as home guardsmen in England when very few soldiers were available to defend the B.C. coast. Like the British Home Guard, he said, the Rangers had carried out a watch by night and by day, "so that if Japanese dared to land here every Jap would be accounted for."

He said a reasonable effort had been made to produce a uniform for the Rangers and Rangers should be proud not of the uniform itself but because it was a Rangers' uniform.

RESULT ENCOURAGING

After his address, Gen. Pearkes told reporters response of home defence soldiers to appeals to go active had been encouraging and many young soldiers were beginning to realize their duty.

While in Victoria Gen. Pearkes visited various army camps but did not make any addresses to soldiers. He said home defence units had already been urged to go active by other officers.

Packing Plants On Prairies Want Soldier Workers

REGINA (CP) — Employment of soldiers, who can be spared from training for a short period, in packing plants and cold storage warehouses to ease the situation caused by a glut of hogs on the market, was urged at a packing-house conference here during the week-end.

The conference announced representations will be made to the federal government by the packing industry, the United Packing House Workers of America and governments of the three prairie provinces for the employment of soldiers.

Packing plants in the prairie provinces now require approximately 1,000 more packers—an increase of about 1.0 per cent. It was stated that between 9,000 and 10,000 persons now are employed, of whom 61.6 are on military deferments and may be called up before or on July 1.

A survey by the Canadian Press showed at least 500 men are needed in Edmonton. Packing plants there have about 12,000 hogs on hand, compared with 24,000 before the gates were closed to new arrivals a week ago. Shipments of processed bacon and frozen beef seaward have been cut 12 to 20 per cent in the last couple of weeks.

Andersson, Haegg Will Stay at Home

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Arne Andersson and Gunner Haegg, Sweden's middle distance runners, will be unable to compete in the United States national A.A.U. track and field championships June 17 and 18, the Swedish Athletic Association has advised A.A.U. officials in New York.

The association said their participation in the Randall's Island meet was impossible because of the length of time involved in the trip. The two stars declared last week they would like to compete, but on the condition that air transportation was provided each way.

McCarters Sign Union Agreement

Exemplifying the good relationship of long standing in the plant, an agreement was signed last week by the management of McCarter Shingle Company Ltd., Victoria, and the executive of Local 1138 International Woodworkers of America.

This agreement covers such matters as holidays with pay, seniority rights, wages, establishment of grievance committees, and recognition of the union as the bargaining agency for the employees; and is the same as that under which most of the mills and logging camps in the province are operating at the present time.

Speaker Praises B.C. Welfare Work

Miss Nora Lea, assistant executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, addressed the board briefly, outlining the services given by family agencies from Halifax to Victoria, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Family Welfare Association at Welfare House Thursday. She commented on the well-developed public services in British Columbia, classing them as outstanding. She voiced her evaluation of the Victoria situation as showing a lack of a properly supervised detention home for juvenile delinquents, and lack of out-patient services in local hospitals. Miss Lea congratulated the citizenry of Victoria on their apparent appreciation of the needs of aged people.

The general secretary announced that the Canadian Association of Social Workers arranged a lunch in honor of Miss Lea at the Wishbone at 1 today. The financial report was given by N. F. Ferris, honorary treasurer. The case committee report was presented by the Rev. F. Comley, and Ald. W. H. Davies gave a report on the recent camp committee meeting. Tentative arrangements for Sunshine Camp follow: St. John Ambulance Juniors and Girl Guides; two camps for mothers and children; a camp for senior citizens, and a camp for children unaccompanied by parents. Dates of these camps will be announced later.

In presenting the statistical report, the general secretary, Mrs. A. I. Spurgin, highlighted the increase in intake. Approximately 550 visits and interviews had taken place during the month of March. The general secretary commented on the increase of distressing marital problems, involving drinking, infidelity, and violence, and stated that an analysis of the income of the majority of cases applying for help indicated that home and family problems were in no wise confined to those in the low income bracket.

The board expressed satisfaction over the fact that Ord Butters will attend the Canadian Welfare Conference in Winnipeg in May. E. H. Wilson presided.

University Women Hear Two Speakers

Mrs. Alfred Watt, O.B.E., spoke on the "Balkan States," who are members of the University Women's Club at a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Price.

Mrs. Watt based her remarks on a tour of the three states, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, previous to the present war. She told of the tragic but admirable history of them and how in 800 years they have just had 20 years of freedom.

Following the last war, she remarked how, during their period of freedom and peace, they had built up practically model states, and national structures of great merit. The fate of these countries is again in a very precarious position, she remarked, but it is to be hoped that they will be granted more years of peace and freedom.

Mrs. Ross Napier, head of the cataloguing department of the Victoria Public Library, and formerly of the staff of the McGill University Library, spoke on "Book Reviewing" and its history.

Miss Ellen Hart presided. The nominating committee presented a slate of candidates for the annual election in May.

Ladies' Aid of the historic Church of Our Lord will entertain members and friends at a guest tea Wednesday afternoon in Criddle Memorial Hall from 3 to 5. Mrs. W. G. Monaghan is general convener and will be assisted by members of the Young People's Society. This pioneer church, a well-known landmark in the city, was built in 1875 and is believed to be the oldest standing structure in present use, although not the oldest recorded place of worship.

MARRIAGE WOMAN'S WORK

Dear Miss Dix: I am 23 and attractive. Have been married two and a half years and have a comfortable home, but my problem is this: Things are fine as long as I am gay and amusing to my husband and keeping our lives pleasant, but as soon as I get sick or have the blues or go to a party he wanders off and enjoys himself without a thought for my comfort.

It certainly burns me up when I know that I am attractive to others and contribute more than my share in making our home agreeable, yet my husband pays more attention to others than he does to me. I am a college graduate and can earn my own living, so do not need a meal ticket. What I want is companionship and love that gives as well as takes.

Why do men think that wives should be perfect, while they continue to do as they please? DISGRUNTLED WIFE.

WIVES MUST BE APPEASERS

Answer: The reason wives have to be the appeasers is because keeping a marriage a going concern is more important to the wife than it is to the husband. A man has many interests outside of his domestic relationship. If his marriage doesn't come up to expectations he has his consolation in his career, his business, his ambitions, but a woman's interests centre around her home. To her, marriage is not only her vocation, but her avocation, and if she is disappointed in it all the balance is cinders, ashes and dust to her.

There is no logic or justice in marriage. It is just the way it is. A woman has to take it, or leave it, and the aggregate experience of the sex is that it pays to take it and make the best of it, and to do their little song and dance to keep husbands amused and entertained and comfortable without expecting them to exert themselves in their behalf.

Of course every wife would like to have a husband who would remain a perpetual lover and who would pity her and baby her when she had the blues and hold her hand when she had a headache, but, in reality, there isn't no such animal, or, if there is, it is a museum specimen. So, if you have a husband who is a good provider and reasonably easy to get along with, I advise you to hold on to him. Husbands are going to be de luxe articles and hard to get after the war.

'Shenanigans', Say Boys in Italy

By KAY MCINTYRE
 The boys in Italy have been showing interest in the news from Buckingham, Quebec, where Nazi prisoners have been reported partying with veteran guards and French-Canadian girls.

Latest issues of the Canadian Army paper, Maple Leaf, Italian edition, came in today, and first item to catch my eye was an editorial article, headed "Shenanigans."

"Story of the beer-drinking, joy-riding Nazi prisoners in Canada does not figure to be one that will meet with a pleasant reaction by Canadian soldiers in Italy," says the "Shenanigans." "Guards who permitted this sort of nonsense should be pegged and hard. German prisoners are treated fairly well in Italy, but as for beer drinking and joy-riding, there's many a Canadian over here who could do with a bit of that himself."

HOME BREWERS

In addition to the cable news supplied by the Canadian Press, Maple Leaf carries stories of the activities of Canadian soldiers in Italy. On the same page as "Shenanigans" is an account of "the boys in two of the several western Canada 25-pounder batteries operating with the 8th Army who tried their hand at distilling native wines and apple cider, a favorite beverage of the Italian rustic."

"They fixed up small, portable stills, copper worm and all," says the story, "but so potent was the brew no Canadian could possibly drink it, and it was turned over to the first aid men, who use it as a disinfectant. Curiously enough, all of whom look frail and weak, in comparison with the Canadians, continue to drink the stuff without any visible ill effects."

A column entitled "Home Brew," gives news in brief from home towns across the country, and in the March 31 issue, under a Victoria date line, notes that "Mary Gordon, trapeze artist, who used to crash automobiles at circuses, has entered a convent and will study to become a nun." Many of the issues contain stripped pin-up girls, among them pictures of Hollywood starlets Greta Christensen in a bathing suit, and Lynn Bari in black satin evening gown. For humor there are the cartoons "This Army," and "Hold Everything," and some of the comic strips the boys used to read at home.

Home Oil Company Re-Elects Board

At the annual meeting of the Home Oil Company Limited, in Calgary, Friday, the following directors were re-elected: to the board L. D. M. Baxter, Winnipeg; E. E. Buckfield, Vancouver; Herbert Greenfield, Calgary; E. Gerald Hanson, Montreal; R. H. B. Ker, Victoria; Jas. R. Lowery, Vancouver; H. R. Milner, Edmonton; M. M. Porter, Calgary; R. W. Ward, Calgary.

Mr. Ker, who has been president of the company for the past five years, expressed his desire to retire as president in favor of Major Jas. R. Lowery, who originated and organized the company in 1926.

Major Lowery, who has been vice-president and managing director of Home Oil Company, was appointed president and managing director. M. M. Porter, K.C., of Calgary, was appointed vice-president.

Black Snowstorm In Italy

By 'CAP' ROY THORSEN
 Former Times Sports Writer
 WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY IN ITALY (By Mail)

When I arose this morning and cast a casual glance out the window of the Convalescence Depot barrack room expecting to see the usual expanse of grey beach, I gave my eyes a vigorous rubbing and swore off black vino then and there.

The beach was black—as black as soot. I looked elsewhere; everything except the sides of the buildings was black.

I turned to Seaforth's George Irving of Kamloops, my next-door neighbor and asked: "Say, G. I., are my eyes playing tricks on me? What do you see out there?"

He looked and confirmed the blackness of things. And then on questioning the other inmates we got the answer.

This part of Italy was getting another of those "black snow" storms. It had started late in the night, the boys told us. Old Vesuvius was erupting again and this downfall of black cinders was covering the countryside for scores of miles around the famous volcanic peak.

CINDERS IN MUSH
 The "snow" wasn't coming down when I awoke but when I popped down for some breakfast it started again. Just like snow it fell, only the particles were cinders, not white and flaky stuff. Some got in my mush and tea as I made an open-air dash to gain the messhall and on failing to excavate some of the pieces, my teeth got a few rude shocks as I utilized the molar on the lumps in the mush, for the cinders, like most cinders I've seen on our tennis courts, were brittle hard. It spoiled my breakfast.

I soon found you had to wear head-dress because the particles hurt an unprotected noodle. The reason they call it "black snow" I see now, is because the cinders were being as evenly distributed as the white stuff, covering the ground like a black carpet. Majority of the particles were flake-size, but some were as big as marbles in this area. This black deluge from the heavens is a very rare occurrence, coming, of course, only when Vesuvius has liver trouble.

They tell me Vesuvius belches forth this stuff high into the air and the air currents distribute it over the countryside.

It was interesting to watch the birds when the cinders were falling. They scuttled for cover under the overhang of roofs. At an ordinary walking pace the stuff stung, but I should imagine a bird flying into the cinders would get cut up some.

While the black snow was falling the cinder clouds above almost blacked-out daylight. The sun looked like a red ball through the haze. Some vehicles used lights.

TOWARDS VESUVIUS

It had just so happened Irving and I had put in for a pass to visit the historical runs on Pompeii, destroyed by Vesuvius in the year 79 A.D., yesterday—and we got it. As we rode in the direction of Pompeii (toward the volcano) the black snow fell more thickly, including chunks as big as my fist. We were thankful we had a canvas hood overhead.

All the way to Pompeii, which by the way, was only lightly touched by the cinder storm that day, we saw Italians on the roofs of their homes shovelling to rid two of a kind to rid the roof-tops of cinderstuff. It is heavier than snow many times over, and unless it is shovelled off will collapse roofs. A shack at our camp collapsed. In some spots before the day was out a foot to a foot and a half had fallen. Today there was four to five inches covering our camp area.

This afternoon more is falling, but it is of a different color—a light brown and is light and fine as dust. If you stayed out 10 minutes you looked like you'd been through a first class prairie dust storm.

I've seen some strange sights since leaving the jolly old home province, but this one beats all—what next in our book of experiences?

Navy Hospital Plans Near Building Stage

Plans for the proposed 250-bed hospital for navy personnel and returned men at Esquimalt have reached the stage where a start on the project may be expected very shortly.

Tentative plans for the hospital building which will have bed accommodation for 150 navy personnel and 100 returned service men are reported to have been approved. The next step will be the calling of bids for the erection of the building.

Contract will shortly be let in connection with the reconditioning and rehabilitation of the old drydock at Esquimalt, it is understood. This contract will in-

Brentwood Rangers Host to Governor

No. 4 Company, Pacific Coast Militia Rangers, Brentwood Bay, at a dinner and entertainment Saturday night welcomed to Brentwood Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward, who recently acquired the old Hagan farm, and was host to Maj-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., D.S.O., G.O.C.-in-Chief, Pacific Command, and Col. T. A. H. Taylor, staff officer in charge, P.C.M.R., and the wives of Rangers.

After toasting "The King," the Lieutenant-Governor and Gen. Pearkes, Cpl. J. A. Sladen, who served as toastmaster, welcomed His Honor and Mrs. Woodward. He said No. 4 Company was the first group of Rangers to officially welcome the Lieutenant-Governor. Lieutenant-Governor Woodward was then formally introduced by Capt. M. Atkins, C.O. of the company.

Expressing pleasure at the opportunity to meet some of his new neighbors, the Lieutenant-Governor said he was looking forward to spending some time on his newly-acquired property at Brentwood.

He congratulated Col. Taylor, his officers and men for the work they had done during the last three years, adding life as a Ranger was not all beer and skittles.

The Rangers, he said, gave comfort to a great many people in British Columbia, for they were ready in case anything happened here. He said he had been impressed with the honesty and sincerity with which the Rangers had carried on their work.

Col. Taylor said that some day everybody would have to defend their homes, and it was a healthy, heartening feeling to have the Rangers now. Of the work of the Rangers, he said: "I feel every single minute has been well spent."

In toasting his captain, Cpl. Sladen said that No. 4 Company, P.C.M.R., had defeated picked rifle teams from the R.A.F., R.C.A.F., 203rd Company, Reserve Army, and No. 3 Company, P.C.M.R., Sidney. Cap. Atkins in reply said the little he had done would have been worthless without the help of his officers and men.

Q.M.S. J. Craig, crack shot, and Col. Cy Peck, V.C., P.C.M.R. area commander, were then introduced, and the Rangers toasted the ladies, who Cpl. Sladen said "even helped clean the rifles."

An entertainment by Sgt. Paul Michelin's concert party followed.

Catering arrangements were made by L.Cpl. S. Thorsborg and Rangers A. J. Bird and A. Goodman.

By PETE SALLAWAY

THAT 15 to 4 victory of Quebec Aces over Port Arthur Friday night, in the second game of the Allan Cup final for the senior amateur hockey championship of Canada, was concrete evidence the hockey-wise knew their business when they established the Aces as the team to beat when the season opened last fall. From reports that came out of the east the Aces were even that early rated a mighty #2000 ice squad. It is pretty certain the series will be all washed up tonight with the eastern champions winners in three straight games.

FROM remarks passed by eastern critics the Port Arthur club has certainly proven anything but impressive in the current series. But the stiffest criticism came from Don Penniston, coach of several former Allan Cup champions, who referred to the Shipbuilders as "a good intermediate team." That doesn't say much for the calibre of hockey played in the west during the past season.

WHEN Tommy Hitchcock, famous United States polo player, was killed in an air accident in England last week, sport was robbed of one of its most colorful personalities. Often referred to as the "Prince of Polo," Hitchcock did more than anyone else to popularize his favorite sport with the masses. He definitely broke down the social barriers that marked membership of the big clubs and that was why it was possible for two Texas cowpunchers—Rube Williams and Cecil Smith—to play against Capt. Pat Roark's British challengers in the international matches of 1930. Because of his wealth and social position Hitchcock was able to occupy the position of a benevolent dictator of the sport.

QUINCE jockey Bobby Permane booted home those five winners on three successive days at the Pimlico track the experts have been trying in vain to find a record that would equal the amazing feat of the youthful hardboot. Gordon Richards, favorite of the British turf followers, was aboard 12 straight in 1933. George Fordham and Fred Archer, another pair of famous English riders, each rode a half dozen winners on one program. Fordham, who hung up his tack in 1883, was first to do it and came within an eyelash of sweeping the entire card of seven. One race was a dead-heat and his mount was beaten in the run-off.

SEVERAL United States boys came down in front with six winners in an afternoon. Overton, a Negro rider, kicked in half a dozen at Washington Park, Chicago, in 1891. James Lee, another colored cyclone in colors, established a world record by sweeping the complete card of six races at Churchill Downs in 1907. Others turning in six winners in an afternoon on major tracks were Clarence Turner at Charleston, S.C., in 1912; Earl Sands at Havre de Grace in 1919; Alf Robertson at Havana in 1928; Albert Adams at Marlboro, Md. in 1930; Basil James at Tanforan and Johnny Adams at Bay Meadows in 1938.

RECORDS are made to be broken and in February, 1910, Albert Whitaker shined in all seven winners at Huntley, New Zealand. W. Thomas matched this in 1929 at Townsville, Australia. Herman Phillips was up on seven winners at Reno in 1916. Joe Sylvester had the leg up on seven out of eight winners at Ravenna, O. in 1930 and Irene Leguissamo matched that performance at Buenos Aires a year later. Six was the limit in New York and on the better strips elsewhere during the days of Johnny Loftus, Laverne Fator, Buddy Ensor and Sande, for that's all the races there were on the daily programs. Much depends on the company you keep in racing, but booting home five winners on three successive days is hitting 100 per cent in any league.

Betting Spree At Jamaica Track

Stir Up In Great Win

NEW YORK (AP)—The eastern contingent of the May 6 running of the Kentucky Derby narrowed to eight or nine today as horsemen reviewed the performances of their horses in Saturday's Wood Memorial at Jamaica and the Sagamore Purse at Pimlico.

While the horsemen talked of the outstanding performance of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Stir Up in the first division of the Wood and the triumphs of George D. Widener's Lucky Draw in the second section and Warren Wright's Pensive at Pimlico, the average racegoer marveled at the $3,176,553 betting spree staged by 41,412 fans at Jamaica.

Pouring $1,039,391 through the pari-mutuel machines on the Wood, run in two divisions because of the large field, New York fans set up a new wagering standard with the first $3,000,000 day in turf history and hung up a record daily double pool of $150,242. In addition they wagered $337,362 on one division of the Wood for a new single-race handle in New York state.

DERBY FAVORITE

Stir Up, winning his 1 1/16-mile test in 1:44 1/5, definitely established himself as the Derby favorite. Slated to accompany the Greentree gelding to Louisville are A. Baron's Autocrat, third behind Stir Up and possibly Mrs. D. H. Peters' Bull Dandy, who wound up seventh after setting the early pace.

Whether Lucky Draw, who won his division in 1:46 1/5 (equivalent to 10 lengths slower than Stir Up), will make the trip depends on the outcome of a conference between Widener and his trainer, Bert Mulholland. The same is true of Col. C. V. Whitney's Pukka Gin, who finished eighth lengths back of Stir Up in fourth place.

161,000 FAMILIES WANT NEW RUGS, CARPETS

When peace finally comes, Canadian women are going to take notice of what goes on under their feet. Yes, floors will suddenly blossom out with new rugs and new carpets.

Nor is this all. Elaborate plans for wholesale interior decorating and outside painting are in the wind; new homes and new cars.

Have you a post-war plan—with these or other things as an important item in it? Perhaps you're just turning them over in your mind? If so, we urge you to plan carefully and definitely, because all these things will cost money.

And here's a hint on how to accumulate money—an idea which thrifty Canadians are making use of, right now. Begin setting your casual money to work for you, as it should.

Deposit it regularly in a savings account at The Huron & Erie. We mean your loose silver and the odd dollar here and there, which slip away easily. Even a few dollars deposited each week will grow at interest into a surprisingly large sum, by this time next year.

So start that savings account with The Huron & Erie, this very week!

Seniors Golf Event At Oak Bay Aug. 14-18

Annual tournament of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association will be held at the Victoria Golf Club, Aug. 14 to 18. This was decided at a meeting of association held here over the weekend with president Joshua Green of Seattle as chairman. Delegates attended from Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Spokane, Vancouver and Victoria.

J. Parmley-Paret of Victoria was named chairman of the tournament committee. President Green presented the association with a massive sterling silver cup to be presented annually to the player turning in the low net score in the qualifying round. The trophy has to be won three successive years to become the permanent property of the winner.

Oshawa Wins Canadian Title

Defeats Trail 11 to 4

TORONTO (CP)—Oshawa Generals clinched their claim to the Memorial Cup in smashing fashion here Saturday night as they unleashed a six-goal drive in the last six minutes of play to crush Trail Smoke-Eaters 11 to 4, taking the best-of-seven series four straight in one of the most one-sided junior hockey finals on record.

Smoke Eaters held the proud and powerful Generals on nearly even terms up to those last few, fatal minutes, and trailed by a 5 to 4 count until the Oshawans cut loose, and the official scorers were threatened with writer's cramp. The score was tied 3 to 3 at the end of the first period, with two Oshawa goals counted while Trail was a man short, and Generals led 4 to 3 at the end of the second. The final period was strictly no contest after Generals turned their big guns loose.

Blonde Ken Smith, one of the six Oshawa players who are due to enter the navy now that the series is over, fattened his scoring average by sinking three goals and assisting on three others. That gave him 10 goals and eight assists for a total of 18 points in the series.

His nearest rivals were Bob Love with seven and three, Bill Ezinicki with four and five, and Floyd Curry with six and three. These three also are slated for the navy, along with Bill Barker and Jack Taggart.

Curry, Love and Ted Lindsay each scored two goals in the final game, with Ezinicki and Don Batten counting the others.

Scorers for Trail were Roy Kelly, Dick Butler, Bobby Schurr and Johnny McCormick. Schurr and McCormick, along with Jim Thomson, were St. Michael's College of Toronto players who were added to the westerners after injuries forced three of their best men from the series.

The first half of the game produced some of the best hockey of the series so far, and many of the 7,929 fans who attended were sure the westerners would pull a win out of the fire. The first period was fast and thrilling, but Trail started to crumble a little in the second as their passing plays disintegrated.

In the final 20 minutes, General's superior speed and smooth play told, and Smoke Eaters were left in the rear after the first few minutes.

SUMMARY

V.M.D. Flyers Play Scoreless Tie In Cup Soccer Match

Saturday's McGavin Cup soccer match between Victoria Machinery Depot and R.C.A.F. from Pat Bay resulted in a scoreless tie with the shipbuilders being fortunate to walk off the field with nothing worse than a dead-lock.

Playing a stiff checking game all afternoon the Flyers completely bottled up the V.M.D. forward line which, in addition, turned in one of its poorest exhibitions this season. The usually clever Alvin Parks might just as well have not been on the field for what he accomplished while Noel Morgan was definitely off form. Scotty Robinson turned in a sound performance at outside right while French worked hard at centre forward but was not very effective. George Payne, right winger for the shipbuilders, passed up their one real scoring chance in the first half when, with an open goal at his mercy, he drove the ball direct at goalie Hunter.

BACKS PLAY WELL

Fine work of the V.M.D. back division and goalie Evans saved the club time after time. Barney Barnswell and George Leggett, the two backs, along with centre-half Joe Robbins broke up the R.C.A.F. attacks all afternoon and their kicking and headwork was perfect.

In the first half the R.C.A.F. passed up enough scoring opportunities to win the game with centre-forward Norm Baker having goalie Evans at his mercy three times only to miss. On one occasion, with an open goal in front of him, Baker slipped on the grass as he was about to shoot.

Play was plenty rugged and kept the fans on their toes. In the second half Joe Robbins and Shaw, R.C.A.F. centre half, engaged in a wrestling match on the ground but were pulled apart without any serious damage. Both checking was stiff and several times players of both teams appealed to referee Glancy but the official usually waved play on.

Hodges Cup Golf

Second round results in the Hodges Cup competition at the Gorge Vale Golf Club follow:

Kent Power Hits CBC, Hutchison, And Dual Language

An attack on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, complaint of Canada's "obvious headache," the Quebec dual-language problem, and criticism of Bruce Hutchison, highlighted an address on "Foreign Policy for Canada," given members of the Canadian Club, by W. Kent Power, K.C., of Calgary, and past president of the Calgary Canadian Club.

Mr. Power also paid his respects to the Canadian Institute of National Affairs, declaring that foreign policy of the country was not made by its members, but in the last analysis by the man in the street.

Devoting the major portion of his address to foreign policy, and to his belief that Canada should make clear to the world her determination to maintain and develop her position in the British Commonwealth of Nations, Mr. Power, early in his speech, launched an attack on the CBC.

He referred to the CBC's national broadcast from Victoria on the "Rise of Asia," in which he said "our own CBC" allowed a native of India, Darshan Singh Sangha, to state that it was necessary that India be given her independence immediately.

GOEBBELS PLEASED

"This in the midst of war. Don't you imagine Mr. Goebbels was delighted?" he queried and added: "The sooner the CBC situation is cleared up, if it ever can be, the better."

Toward the conclusion of his address, Mr. Power introduced the subject of French-Canada, and declared that there was no unity of sacrifice in Canada, when one military district would contribute in a ratio, three boys to fight for their country and another district only one. He made special reference to the dual language, French and English being spoken in Canada.

"The only solution I can see, is to quit playing political football with Quebec—to tell the French people none of their privileges will be taken away from them, but that the rest of Canada cannot be turned into a French-speaking or dual-language country. Is Canada going to prosper commercially if it is an island with 130 to 150 million people speaking English to the south of it and with Americans coming up to Canada, to find half the country speaking French and the other half English?"

LORD HALIFAX

Discussing Lord Halifax's now famous address, he said that it was a sign of the continuance of the colonial attitude of mind of some people to resent the making by Lord Halifax of a statement of commonwealth foreign policy on Canadian soil. He criticized a comment, he said was made by Bruce Hutchison in the latter's column to the effect that the postwar world envisaged by Lord Halifax was not the kind of world we want.

"True it is, that it may not be the kind of world we want, but it is in fact, the kind of world we have to face. Wishful thinking will not change facts," said Mr. Power.

"As a little nation we would be brushed aside but when we are an important part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, we cannot be treated like that," Mr. Power told his audience. "The postwar world is going to be dominated by Russia, the United States and China, and if Britain is to have any place, the Empire must stick together."

Throughout his address, Mr. Power stressed the need for Canada to decide upon and maintain her own foreign policy.

Col. Eric Pepler, K.C., was chairman, and R. A. Wootton gave the vote of thanks. Mr. Power will leave Victoria for Duncan on Monday.

Directors Reorganize Transportation Branch

The transportation, harbor and aviation group of the Chamber of Commerce is being reorganized with a view to increasing development of railway, steamship, and bus services, and promoting aviation and waterway transportation. Move for reorganization took place at the directors' meeting.

Members of the board were asked to signify their particular interest in the seven groups provided for under the chamber's by-laws. These are agricultural, industrial and tourist trade development, retailers, building industries, transportation and Junior Chamber.

G. Hamilton Harman, president, gave his support to the Chamber of Commerce project for improvement of the port, and said the board would back the construction of a western breakwater.

IF YOU THINK THE WAR IS OVER ... TAKE A TRIP OVER BERLIN

Maybe the war does look good—from a distance; from a comfortable well-paid job; from a warm, well-lighted home . . . Oh, sure, we'll win the war in '44 . . . nothing can stop us now!

But the enemy who man the flak batteries on the Unter Den Linden don't seem to have heard about it . . . They still have plenty of shells to fire, plenty of searchlights to operate . . . And they still make plenty of hits.

Ask any Lancaster Pilot as he rolls his flak-riddled bomber to a stop while the ambulance screams up to take away his wounded . . .

What was the score for last night? 79 . . . 28 . . . 36 planes lost. Those figures weren't yards gained at a football game, or minutes of overtime in a hockey match. Each one of those planes held eight or nine lads who won't come back . . . The war is ended for them.

If you think the war's ended for you, take a trip over Berlin . . . Or ask a Lancaster Pilot . . . He'll tell you "Sure it's all over . . . All over but the fighting . . ."

We're Hitting 'Em Both Ways, Premier Accepts Plaque And $120,000,000 Pledge

By DICK FREEMAN

Overwhelming preponderance of air power will "swamp" the Germans when the anticipated invasion of Hitler's Europe starts, says Sir Richard Fairey, M.B.E., F.R., A.E.S., director-general of the British Air Commission, visiting Victoria today from Washington, D.C.

The famous head of the Fairey Aviation Company, which produced the very latest type of warplane, Barracuda, which recently crippled the Nazi battleship Tirpitz, does not believe that air power alone will win the war.

He does contend, however, that airpower will bring things to a point where occupation of the enemy territory will not be so difficult. When the amphibious forces of the United Nations launch their drive against the coasts of Europe the combined air forces of the Allies will be a dominant factor in the success of the invasion, in the opinion of Sir Richard.

HITTING BOTH WAYS

"We are hitting them both ways right now," he said when interviewed in his suite at the Empress. "We are cutting off their production and we are shooting down what planes they are getting in the air."

I asked him if the devastating air raids over Germany were having the effect expected of them. He replied: "We are damaging the German air industry very badly, causing them to disperse their production plants. There was no doubt," he said, "that the day and night bombing by British and American squadrons was seriously undermining the morale of the German people. But the Gestapo forced them to endure it."

Sir Richard spoke of Britain's plane production as "colossal," then hastened to substitute the term "tremendous" in recognition of the vastness of production in the United States. "It is magnificent," he said in his deep-throated voice, lauding the U.S. effort. "Add the production of the United States, Canada and Great Britain together, and what have you got. Why, it will swamp the enemy!"

Sir Richard takes care to inform interrogators that he is a supply man.

"We are keeping our production figures secret for the very good reason that the Nazis could estimate the weight of our blows on Germany," he said. "Planes like the Mosquito, Lancaster and Spitfire, which are paralyzing the enemy air resistance, are of the very highest quality in design and construction, said Sir Richard, praising the effort of the British worker. British workers, he said, "just work and sleep," stumble to work in blackouts, work 55 hours a week, and even then they are not through, for at night they have Home Guard, air detection and other duties to perform."

RAN OUT OF GUTS

He said the British aircraft industry has done a very wonderful job for which the British Ministry of Aircraft Production must be given a great deal of credit. "We put our full weight into aircraft production after Dunkerque and now we have more than evened the score," he said. "During the Battle of Britain the Germans had the advantage of five to one. They did not quit because they ran out of guts—they just ran out of guts."

The man who should be given the credit for winning the Battle of Britain, Sir Richard said, was Lord Trenchard, who formed Cranwell College, from where the principle of intensive air training emanated.

I asked Sir Richard what he thought of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

CANADA'S EFFORT

"It is magnificent," he said. "It was boldly planned and it worked. I consider it is Canada's outstanding contribution to the war."

Pilots and airmen trained in Canada under the plan, he said, were writing an imperishable page in history. Sir Richard also spoke of the development of the plane production industry in Canada, specializing in Mosquito and Lancaster bombers, which he referred to as a great achievement. "Canada," he said, "is making a wonderful showing in proportion to her population in an industry that before the war was negligible."

While in Victoria, Sir Richard hopes to do some fly fishing and has planned a trip to Cowichan. With Lady Fairey he traveled across Canada by train, spurning transcontinental plane transportation. "In my travels," he said, "I have looked down on Canada; this time I wanted to see more of it."

On Friday next, Sir Richard will address the Vancouver Board of Trade on "The British Aircraft Industry."

The noted aircraft builder has been chairman and managing-director of the Fairey Aviation Company since 1915. He is a member of the grand council of the British Industries Federation and of the Aeronautical Research Committee, is past president of the British Aircraft Constructors' Society and the Royal Aeronautical Society. He received the Wakefield gold medal for invention of the wing flap. He was knighted for his outstanding war work.

"Daughter in her mother's house, but mistress in her own," the Legislative Chamber of the Province of British Columbia today ushered in the Sixth Victory Loan with all the panoply of power, reflecting the Dominion ceremony which took place on Parliament Hill in Ottawa Saturday afternoon.

Premier John Hart presented George Kidd, chairman of the National War Finance Committee for British Columbia and the Yukon, with a plaque which was flown by courier from Ottawa and represents this province's pledge to raise $120,000,000 in the 6th Victory Loan.

A military guard of honor and detachments of C.W.A.C., W.R.N.S., and R.C.A.F. Women's Divisions paraded from the City Hall to the music of the Garrison band, under Bandmaster C. E. Bower. The women took up positions flanking the steps of the Parliament Buildings while the Lieutenant-Governor inspected the guard of honor.

Within, the Legislative Chamber was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the speakers' dais being covered with red, white and blue flowers and backed by a group of silk flags which were procured in 1939 for the Royal visit.

After being introduced by Denis Hagar, the premier received the plaque from three couriers representing the women's branches of the armed forces. Premier Hart spoke of what the plaque stands for, and presented it to Mr. Kidd, who in accepting it, pledged the people of this province to reach their objective in the 6th Victory Loan. The Lieutenant-Governor extended to Mr. Kidd his best wishes for success. The plaque is of polished walnut, upon which is mounted a silver setting bearing the Roman

385 Rotarians In Victoria For District Meeting

William D. Shannon of the Seattle Rotary Club, was sole nominee proposed for the office of District Governor of Rotary, at the morning session of the 30th annual conference of 101st district of Rotary International, held in Royal Victoria Theatre today.

Gordon N. Scott, president of the Seattle Club, moved the nomination and M. J. Little, president of the Victoria club, seconded.

Three hundred and eighty-five delegates from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Alaska and British Columbia filled the main floor of the theatre to hear an address of welcome given by Premier John Hart.

"You in conclave here, reflect the friendship that exists between our two countries as a whole," Premier Hart said. "Your service clubs throughout the years have perpetuated the high ideals epitomized in the rule to which you subscribe, namely, service above self."

"As brothers in arms we fight for the liberation of those less fortunate than ourselves. The real task, however, is the winning of the war. Then comes the winning of the peace. When that time arrives you of America, and we of Canada will find an opportunity to join in a partnership that will bring relief to the suffering."

A welcome was also extended the Rotarians by Mayor Andrew McGavin and M. J. Little. Ralph A. Bartholomew of Ketchikan, Alaska, replied to Mayor McGavin's address and Gordon Scott of Seattle to that of the premier. Robert Cheyne, district governor, Kelowna, gave his report and stated that there were 95 clubs in the district with a membership of 5,913.

Hope that the United States and the British Empire would march hand in hand in the post-war world, was expressed by Paul B. McKee of Portland, representative of Rotary International. Rotary, he told the audience, was a going concern and it knows no boundaries. He spoke of clubs all over the world and said there were 5,170 clubs with a membership of 222,870.

Frank L. Doherty was conference chairman and R. H. Vivian of Seattle led community singing. Dr. W. J. Sipprell gave the invocation and the Victoria Boys' School Band, conducted by Al Prescott, provided music.

Hard-of-Hearing Club will be addressed at the club rooms, 1416 Douglas Street, Wednesday evening at 8:15 by Lt.-Col. R. S. Worsley on the work the Red Cross is doing and how that organization is looking after prisoners of war.

Aircraft Carrier Opens Victory Loan With Drill Display

"Men in the navy have put aside their dreams of home until they have finished their task. Every man aboard ship has a place of duty when action stations are called, so has each citizen in Canada's 6th Victory Loan Drive."

In these words Cmdr. A. R. E. Coleman, R.C.N.V.R., spoke from the bridge of a Royal Navy aircraft carrier to an audience of Victory Loan salesmen on the eve of the start of their canvass here.

The captain of the aircraft carrier, R. S. D. Armour, R.N., welcomed Victory Loan officials to his ship, emphasizing his gratitude for hospitality shown to himself and crew by the people of Vancouver Island.

Cdr. Coleman went on to say that one ship under his command had reached 250 per cent of its quota even before the loan officially opened.

"All this material of war," said Cdr. Coleman, "costs vast sums and much of it has been, or will be destroyed in battle before we have won. With the equipment, have gone the lives of fighting men. That is the law of war. The history of the carrier you are aboard is yet to be written, but the ship's company know what to expect and are prepared for their ordeal."

He pointed with pride to the Canadian Navy and its part in the war and assured his listeners that if Canadians would raise the money to supply service equipment, the navy would do their best to use it efficiently and courageously.

Letter Revealed Suicide Intention

A letter contemplating suicide, written by Kent Allan Ford, 36, to his father, D. A. Ford, was produced by Detective George Clayards before Dr. E. C. Hart and a jury which returned a verdict of suicide at an inquest today in McCall Bros. Funeral Home.

Ford was found with part of his head blown away by dynamite caps Thursday night in the T.B. ward of the Jubilee Hospital, where he was a patient. Detective Clayards also produced a brown bag, commonly known as a "powder-monkey's" bag, which was hanging beside the bed of the deceased.

Mary Irving, nurse, described finding the body after hearing the explosion. She said she had seen Ford about half an hour before the explosion and he had wanted to tell her something, but hesitated because of another patient being in the room.

Dr. F. Kincaid, in charge of T.B. work in Victoria and district, said Ford had been going in and out of hospital as a patient since 1931. He had been

11 Speeches Open Victory Loan Panel

Eleven speeches by city workers today opened the active program planned by the payroll plan of the Sixth Victory Loan. On the speakers panel in the next few days some of Canada's war heroes will bring their message to Victorians.

Rev. L. M. Outerbridge, chaplain of the Royal Canadian Navy, addressed Victoria Machinery Depot workers at 8 a.m. and again at 4.30 p.m. Lt. Cmdr. E. T. (Ted) Simmonds, D.S.O., D.S.C., spoke to the staff of B.C. Coast Service at 11.15, and Enamel and Heating Products at 12.30 telling his experiences in the Atlantic and the Mediterranean. He will be heard again tonight at 8 when he speaks to the B.C. Electric.

Boeing's appropriately had an air force man to address them, F.O. P. A. Martness at 12 noon and also again tonight at 8. Capt. R. Maze addressed McCarter's Shingle Mills at noon, Jubilee Hospital staff at 2, McLennan, McFeely and Prior at 5 and the Northwestern Creamery tonight at 8.30.

Price Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven major changes in the U.S. price control and stabilization program were advocated today by a committee of the House of Representatives—the Office of Price Administration's severest critic in Congress.

A rewritten price control act containing the recommendations was filed by the group assigned to investigate whether government agencies exceed their authority. It is headed by Representative Howard W. Smith (Dem., Va.).

The majority plan suggests:

1. Writing the President's hold-the-line freeze of wages and prices of Sept. 15, 1942, into the price control law.

2. A curb on the powers of the War Labor Board.

3. Abolition of the treble damages the O.P.A. can impose on a price violator and substituting a maximum $50,000 penalty.

4. Abolition of O.P.A.'s authority to order sanctions without court review.

5. Required publication of executive orders, regulations and directives in the federal register.

6. Relaxation of certain rent controls.

7. Broader court review powers over both O.P.A. and W.L.B.

Australian Newspapers Drop Injunction Suit

FOR THE KNOCKOUT BLOW

● We've got to do it. But it's going to be a tough job to battle through to the heart of Fortress Europe. It takes more than brave men to get through. It'll take plenty of Victory Bond dollars to back them up... weapons and supplies that those men on our fighting lines require to produce Victory.

We've had five years of war. The big thrust that we've all been working for is right ahead of us. We've got the best fighting men in the world. You and I have the earning power and the dollars. Let's match our savings with their fighting courage to compel an early Victory and an early return to their families... an early return to Peace.

'Son of Dracula' At Plaza, Oak Bay

Irish comedian Pat Moriarty received the scare of his life in a realistic horror scene during production of Universal's new horror drama, "Son of Dracula." The picture is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

Director Robert Siodmak instructed Moriarty, who plays a sheriff, to cross the morgue, lift the lid of a coffin and look inside. It was Pat's first sequence in the picture, and he gave the initial rehearsal a rousing climax. He lifted the coffin lid, emitted a yell and fled from the set.

Siodmak had neglected to inform the actor that the coffin contained Louis Allbritton, wearing deathly pale make-up and lying in complete repose.

Lon Chaney has the title role in "Son of Dracula." The cast also includes Evelyn Ankers, Robert Paige, Frank Craven, J. Edward Bromberg and Samuel S. Hinds. The associate producer was Ford Beebe.

Sparkling Story Brought to Screen

"Heaven Can Wait," currently showing at the Rio Theatre, is a gay, romantic comedy of the naughty, nifty Nineties, produced and directed by Ernest Lubitsch for 20th Century-Fox, the technicolor of the Gay Nineties puts Gene Tierney and Don Ameche in the featured roles aided by a host of supporting players.

Included in the outstanding cast are Charles Coburn, Marjorie Main, Laird Cregar, Spring Byington, Allyn Joslyn, Eugene Pallette and many, many more.

New Film Feature In 'The Uninvited'

A powerful and absorbing melodrama combining some very amusing comedy incidents, Paramount's "The Uninvited" currently at the Capitol Theatre promises solid entertainment all the way through with stars Ray Milland, Ruth Hussey and Donald Crisp as a very capable acting trio.

Also to be seen in her first feature role is a delightful young actress, Gail Russell, whose charm and beauty have captured the hearts of fans who have already seen the picture. Milland and Hussey as the sister-brother team have made-to-order parts, it is said, and play them to absolute perfection. In the story, they purchase a haunted house, (not knowingly of course), from Donald Crisp, grandfather of Gail Russell in the film. The latter, strenuously opposed to the sale, looms as the centre of attraction when weird goings-on turn the house into a place of horror.

Events move swiftly, thereafter, and as the tension of the plot increases, it is said the suspense is at such high pitch that gasps and even muffled screams from audiences is not uncommon.

Bright Musical Stars Sinatra

One of the most entertaining musical films in months opens today at the Atlas Theatre. It is RKO Radio's "Higher and Higher" with Michael Morgan, Jack Haley, and Frank Sinatra sharing the stellar honors.

The sensational Sinatra's screen debut had been awaited. It is a pleasure to report that the young man has a thoroughly pleasing personality and a lot of excellent acting ability along with his voice. In fact, he's a real find for picture purposes. As a rather shy but sincere young composer he turns in a performance which matches with the fine work of Miss Morgan. The latter plays

Where to Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS — "Higher and Higher," starring Frank Sinatra.

CADET — "Riding High," starring Dorothy Lamour.

CAPITOL — Gail Russell and Ray Milland in "The Uninvited."

DOMINION — Olivia de Havilland in "Government Girl."

OAK BAY AND PLAZA — "Son of Dracula," starring Lon Chaney.

RIO — Gene Tierney and Don Ameche in "Heaven Can Wait."

YORK — "Northern Pursuit," starring Errol Flynn.

'Captain Blood' Has Errol Flynn

Notes on the progress of a swashbuckler:

Errol Flynn fought the Barbary pirates on the deck of a ship in "Captain Blood." The Warner Bros. star fought the Indians on Wyoming's plains as Custer in "They Died With Their Boots On." He fought in the air over Germany in "Desperate Journey." He fought in the prize ring in "Gentleman Jim," life story of James J. Corbett.

Currently Flynn is knocking out Charles Marsh with one punch in "Northern Pursuit" at the York Theatre. The fight takes place in the men's room of a Pullman.

'Riding High' Coming to Cadet

Another great new Paramount musical, in Technicolor, co-starring Dorothy Lamour, Dick Powell and Victor Moore, is now being shown at the Cadet Theatre with Gil Lamb, Cass Daley and Milt Britton and his Band, when "Riding High" makes its local debut.

According to all reports, "Riding High" is one of the merriest musicals ever made, a whiz-bang of a Western, glorified with gorgeous girls, peppy tunes, eye-filling costumes... all that and Technicolor, too!

DOMINION THEATRE
Loaded with mirth and action, "Government Girl," now at the Dominion Theatre, deals with a Washington secretary's woes in trying to steer her unruly boss through the complexities of

RAY MILLAND HURLS flaming candles in an attempt to chase away the evil spirit in Paramount's "The Uninvited," arriving today at the Capitol Theatre. The picture stars Milland, Ruth Hussey and Donald Crisp with Cornelia Otis Skinner making her first screen bow. Gail Russell, lovely young newcomer, is seen in her initial feature role as Milland's romantic interest.

Exquisite Tunes In 'Blossom Time'

Since its New York premiere in 1921, Sigmund Romberg's "Blossom Time" has been scattering its exquisite melodies in all four corners of the earth. London, Paris, Sydney, Shanghai, Singapore, indeed every single world capital has thrilled to the tender love story based on the life of Franz Schubert, and to the music adapted by Romberg from various symphonic works and cantatas of the world's greatest masters of absolute melody.

Inasmuch as this seems to be the season for revivals, the Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert took great pains to create a brilliant production worthy of the play—and worthy of the contemporary competition. Bright and fresh costumes were designed and executed for the principals and the ensemble, and Watson Barratt's colorful settings depict the gay, romantic Vienna of the early 1800's. The lilac garden setting, the rich drawing-room of Christian Kranz, the picturesque Bohemian lodgings of Franz Schubert, all add up to an opulent and tasteful production.

But, more than the settings, costumes or other trappings, it is the fine music which sets "Blossom Time" in its exalted spot in the history of the American theatre, and the Messrs. Shubert have cast the singing roles with the utmost care, selecting what virtually is an all-star cast for the 1944 revival, which comes to the Royal Theatre, Friday and Saturday.

Barbara Scully will sing the role of the faithful Mitz, with whom Franz Schubert is in love. Schubert himself will be sung by a young radio tenor of exceptional voice, Roy Barnes, and Doug Leavitt will carry the comedy characterization of Christian Kranz. These accomplished artists will be supported by a distinguished cast, including Helene Arthur, Roy Cropper, Victor Morley, Ruth Lockwood, Grace Worth, Greta Bjorson and a splendid singing ensemble of 50.

An augmented orchestra will be under the direction of Pierre de Reeder, veteran operatic conductor.

Mortar used by the Romans, that hardened under water and has lasted 2,000 years, was made of lime and puzzolina sand from Pouzzol which contained aluminum silicate that combined chemically with the lime.
